OFFICIAL PROGRAM
TWENTY-FIVE CENTS

WOODWARD FIELD
SEPT. 24, 1949

The first game of a season is an important occasion. It is with pleasure and pride that Eastern shares this significant event with Montana State College tonight.

This will be the second time the Savages and the Bobcats have met on the gridiron. We hope this friendly rivalry will be maintained through the years, and that our mutual respect for each other's sportsmanship and ability continues.

Coach Carpenter we welcome you, your players and your Montana fans. Our campus is yours.

Dr. Walter W. Isle, President,
Eastern Washington College of Education.

W. B. "Red" Reese, Director of Athletics: Red is starting his 16th year as head man of Savage athletics. During that span he has been head coach of all sports until the fall of 1947, when he turned the football reins over to one of his most apt pupils, present head coach "Abe" Poffenroth. "Red" is still actively engaged in coaching basketball and track. His athletic teams down through the years have been the envy of many small colleges, as he has won more than his share of Tri-Normal and Winco championships. Undoubtedly, "Red" comes the closest to "bustin his buttons" when he is approached on the number of coaches he has out in the coaching field in the various states in the Pacific Northwest and the outstanding job each is doing. At the last count, the number was well over the hundred mark. This year marked another rung in the ladder of "Red's" success of one of his former pupils, when Cece West was returned to the Savage fold as assistant football coach.

Albert "Abe" Poffenroth—Head Coach—Abe's story of his return to the college coaching level reads something like one would find in the Horatio Alger books. He came back to Eastern in 1946, just five years after graduation, which made him one of the youngest college coaches in the profession. In 1947 he was elevated to the position of head coach and the good judgment of the administration has been exemplified many times in the fine job he has done. His record to date has been fourteen games won, two lost and one tied in his two years as head coach. With this record, he has brought two co-championships to Eastern.

Cecil "Cece" West—Cece's return to the scene of his college football as assistant coach, reunited two of "Red's" boys who started for Eastern in 1936 and wrote football history on Woodward Field. Both were All-Conference during all four years of their college career and both are looked upon as two of Savageville's outstanding football players of all time. Cece played guard and is rated by "Red" as the best defensive guard he has ever coached, including his coaching stint for the Second Air Force during the war.

Merle Vannoy—"Moon" is the trouble shooter for the entire athletic program at Eastern. He bears the title of trainer and boxing coach, but by following him around a few hours during any given day, you will find that he is sought out by the players on their personal problems, ranging all the way from financial troubles to the little girl they left at home. He is a graduate of Washington State College, where he gained national fame as a college boxer, representing the Palouse Hills school in four national tournaments. His record since coming to Eastern has been outstanding, in that he has built the program up to the point where the Savages can compete favorably with schools that have been conducting programs for many years.

CLYDE CARPENTER

HEAD COACH

For two years "Carp" has been plagued by injuries. Now he's hoping that third time's charm. He has a promising squad back and hope is running high.

Carpenter brought the T offense to Bobcat grid play in 1936. That season his team won five, lost three and tied two. One of these tie games was in the first Harbor Bowl attractions at San Diego.

1948 was another one of those seasons that make coaches wish they had taken up liontaming or some similarly peaceful livelihood. Only the two Dakota schools, North Dakota U. and North Dakota Aggies, bowed to the luckless Bobcats. Yet only four of those frays were lost by more than a touchdown. So "Carp" feels that this MUST be his year.

Carpenter played three seasons of football as a halfback at Montana State university, graduating in 1932. In the fall he went to Billings high school, as coach of his prep school alma mater. During the period until 1941, Billings was the power in high school football, winning "Carp" five state championships, landing in second place spot three other years.

Late in 1941 he returned to Montana State university and served the Grizzlies as assistant football and basketball coach until 1943. At that time he enlisted in the Navy, reaching the rank of lieutenant, senior grade. On January 1, 1945, he was appointed as Head Football Coach at Montana State College.

MAX KIMBERLY

MAX KIMBERLY

ASST. COACH

Max Kimberly returned last year to Gatton Field, where he had helped make Bobcat football history in the period from 1936 to 1938.

When he was clearing the way for Bobcat backs in his own playing career, Kimberly did such an effective job that he twice made All Rocky Mountain. After his graduation in 1939 he taught and coached at Kimberly, Idaho, high school.

In October of 1941 he enlisted in the Navy. The following May he won his commission as an ensign and an instructor in physical training. Kimberly was assigned to duty at the University of Georgia and while there completed a course in celestial navigation. He flew as a navigator in the Naval Air Transport Service on the run to Manila for the next six months. In January of 1946 he was transferred to the Iowa Sea Hawks Pre-flight school as line coach and wrestling coach.

Kimberly had reached the rank of lieutenant, senior grade by the time he was granted terminal leave in July, 1947.

In the fall of 1947 he entered Stanford university for graduate work in health education and received his degree in 1948. During the time he was at Stanford he served as assistant line coach for the Indians spring practice.

He came back to his alma mater last fall to tutor the linemen in the intricacies of T formation line play. A stickler for conditioning, Max also very forcibly pointed out to the players the value of being in shape. During the coming season he can be counted on to turn out a smart, well-coached line.
